

DNREC's Division of Fish & Wildlife seeks great shots from Delaware anglers for annual photo contest

Digital entries are being accepted through Sept. 30

DOVER – DNREC’s Division of Fish & Wildlife announced today that the 9th annual Delaware Fishing Photo Contest is now open for residents submitting the best fishing photos they have taken throughout the state. The theme of this year’s contest – “Get Out and Fish DE” makes a “casting call” for photographs taken on Delaware waters and submitted for the annual competition.

The winning photograph for this year's contest will be featured on the cover of the 2020 Delaware Fishing Guide, with the top five photographs presented inside the guide.

The contest is open to all Delaware residents, with a maximum of three entries per person. Photographs are only accepted digitally at the Fish & Wildlife photo contest page. Entries are being accepted through Monday, Sept. 30.

A judging panel comprised of DNREC staff will be looking for technically-suitable, well-composed photos that best portray the contest theme "Get Out and Fish DE." To be eligible, photographs must have been taken in Delaware and depict persons involved in lawful fishing activities.

Complete contest rules and information, entry forms, and instructions for uploading entries can be found at the Fish & Wildlife photo contest webpage. For more information, please contact Jennifer Childears at 302-739-9910, or by email at jennifer.childears@delaware.gov.
